• TAU KAPPA EPSILON captured first place in last Friday night's Inter-Fraternity Council Sing.

Phi Sigma Kappa finished second, for the third consecutive year, and Sigma Nu placed third.

The winning Tekes, directed by Jim Miles, sang "The Iota Sweetheart" and "Adoramus Te." Phi Sig presented "Go Tell It on the Mountains" and the fraternity's Drinking Song, under the direction of Hain Swope. Sigma Nu, directed by Dick Wills, sang "The White Star of Sigma Nu" and an original "Smoke Medley," a combination of "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Smoke That Cigarette" and a number of familiar cigarette commercial jingles.

The Sing director's trophy was presented to Sheldon Sladin of Phi Alpha by Dr. Robert H. Harmon, associate University physician and director of the Travelling Troubadours.

Master of ceremonies for the program was Washington disc jockey Jack Rowzie of radio station WWDC. Sing judges were Capt. Robert L. Landers, director of the U. S. Air Force Band and Singing Sergeants; Dr. John Paul, director of Catholic University's music department; and Oliver Wendell Margrave, contributing music critic for the Evening Star.

The Sigma Chi Foundation trophy for scholarship improvement was presented to Kappa Sigma fraternity. In addition to the coveted Sing cup, Tau Kappa Epsilon received the I.F.C. scholarship award for attaining the high-

Peaceful Co-existence Forms USSR Policy

by Marg Newton

• LENIN'S PRINCIPLE of peaceful co-existence with all countries regardless of political, economic or social systems is the basis of all U.S.S.R. policy, according to Mitrofan Fedorin, First Secretary of the Russian embassy.

Mr. Mitrofan spoke on "The U.S.S.R. Views the Middle East" at the International Relations club meeting last Wednesday night. Non-aggression, non-intervention in the internal affairs of Middle Eastern nations and mutual respect for the territorial integrity and sovereignty of these nations are the primary attitudes necessary for a peaceful settlement of the area's problems, Mr. Mitrofan said. He went on to cite treaties of trade, and economic and technical assistance between the U.S.S.R. and various middle eastern nations to show the good relations that exist between Russia and the Middle and Near East.

No Concessions

The U.S.S.R. desires no special economic or political consideration or concessions from these nations, the First Secretary emphasized several times during his prepared address. "The Middle East can and must become a zone of peace, a zone free of nuclear weapons, a zone of neighborly friendliness and peace," Mr. Mitrofan said. He continued, that he felt if the great powers would not interfere, the Arab states and Israel would more quickly achieve understanding and reach mutual agreement leading to peace.

The tanks sold by Czechoslovakia to Egypt were "purely a commercial" transaction, Mr. Mitrofan said in answering a question from the floor following his prepared speech. There is no paradox between this sale and the Russian principle of the non-interference of great powers in this area, because no nation can be denied the "right of self-defense."

Essay Deadline Will Be April 10

• THE DEADLINE FOR submitting material for the Jesse Frederick Essay prize in journalism is April 10, according to Dr. Philip H. Highfill, Jr., chairman of the judging committee.

For the first time, submissions this year may come from publications outside the University, Dr. Highfill, associate professor of English literature, pointed out. Previously the $200 prize has been given only for writing which

Career Conference To Offer 24 Forums On Campus April 2

• PLANS FOR THE 1958 Career Conference are nearing completion as Conference leaders work out final locations for the 24 career forums to be held on April 2 in Lisner auditorium and other University buildings.

Announcement of this year's keynote speaker has not yet been made but is expected within a few days, according to Conference co-chairman Eldon Miller. Guest speakers for the individual forums have been selected, and include many prominent professional men and women from the Washington area, says Mr. Miller.

The Conference will begin with a buffet supper at 6:15 p.m. in Lisner lounge, in honor of the keynote speaker, forum's speakers and student and University leaders and officers. The United States Army Band will give a concert in Lisner auditorium at 7:00 p.m., after which the keynote address will be delivered. After the address, the audience will be free to divide into groups and attend any of the forums.

The forums are scheduled to begin at 8:30 p.m. The speakers or panels will discuss their professions for approximately 45 minutes, after which there will be a general question and discussion period. Between 10:00 and 10:30 p.m., the forums will come to a close. At that time cookies and coffee will be available in the Student Union until 11:30 p.m.

Peace Essay Prize Open To Students

• THE WEDDELL PEACE prize committee will award $350 to the degree candidate who submits the best essay on any subject related to the promotion of world peace.

The competition is open to all students registered for a degree in the University. An award will be given to the student who, in the opinion of the award committee, submits the best essay. According to the committee, in recent years very few students have entered the competition.

Essays entered in the competition should be no less than 3,000 words, accompanied by a bibliography of the source material used. In order to judge the essays anonymously, a separate sheet of paper with the contestant's name, address, telephone number, school he is registered in, degree for which he is registered and title of his essay should be attached to his essay. No other identification should appear on the entry itself. A sealed envelope containing this material may be mailed to Professor Robert H. Moore, building G, room 10.

Entries should be submitted to Professor Moore by mail or in person on or before April 18th.

Specific topics dealing with political, economic, legal, or philosophical phases of orderly world community adjustment may be selected by the contestants, according to Professor Moore, associate professor of English composition.

A carefully worked over seminar or term paper may form the foundation for submissions, he added.

has appeared in one of the University newspapers or magazines. The Essary prize is restricted to journalistic writing. Submitted material must have been published and should show "promise of sound citizenship and ability in forthright reporting." Features and news stories are the two specific types of writing accepted for judging, Dr. Highfill said. He pointed out that the customary practice is to turn in a series of news stories, rather than only one or two.

Established 1948
The Essary prize was established in 1948 in honor of Jesse Frederick Essary, a wire service correspondent, by his daughter. The prize is awarded annually, but is withheld if no work of sufficiently high caliber is submitted. Announcement of the winner is made at the Spring Convocation exercises.

Interested persons may obtain additional information from members of the committee. Dr. Robert H. Moore, associate professor of English composition, and Prof. Ross P. Schlabach, head of the journalism department, are also on this committee.

The last two recipients of the prize were Betsy Evans, HATCHET senior staff, and Ernest Auerbach, HATCHET contributing editor.

We Think . . .

Fine Work, IRC

• CONGRATULATIONS TO THE International Relations club for presenting Mitrofan Fedorin, First Secretary of the Russian Embassy, as the last speaker in the series of four lectures, "Problems of the Middle East."

Mr. Fedorin was the first Russian official to speak at the University in the last few years. Following his prepared speech, the First Secretary agreed to open the floor to questions from the student audience. Mr. Fedorin's agility in placing awkward questions within the framework of Lenin's doctrine clearly illustrates that the new Russian sweetness and light policy is a variation from the "hard sell" to the "soft sell" of the party line.

The entire series was marked by informed and qualified speakers including members of the Israeli and Egyptian embassies and a U. S. Middle Eastern expert. The theme of the series and topics of the individual speakers were all directed toward a matter of great international concern.

The International Relations club has presented a stimulating series of lectures, as well as a final speaker whose appearance was a "first" in many respects. All students with a strong interest in international events will find the IRC a worthy student group. With support, programs of such high caliber can be continued in the future.

Campus Elections

• CAMPUS ELECTIONS are close at hand, and this is the time when politically-minded students should think of running for office.

If you have a complaint, install it as a plank in your platform. If your plank is in the best interests of the student body and the University, petition for an office and present your views at the upcoming election assemblies.

Membership in the Student Council can be a rewarding and stimulating experience, and your work can be beneficial for all the students. You must consider the interests of the students and the University paramount, and your membership in the Council as your most important job.

Do not complain about your student leaders on May Day. If you feel you can do the job, think hard on practical and constructive measures which concern student government. Then petition, air your program, and run for election.

Our Readers Think . . .

OSA Vs. the SC

TO THE EDITORS:
THE STUDENT BODY of this University has been somewhat dazzled by the rapidity with which OSA has grown. For an organization that began in a shroud of secrecy, it has shown progress after its first outburst of opposition to existing University policies. OSA has shown a lot of drive, has held several meetings, has published fliers, and has held an assembly. This progress is worth noting, but will it be lasting?

The University will soon be asked to place OSA on probation with a full year to go for official recognition. The question then will be whether OSA will be able to sustain itself for that long a period. During the formative period an important point may have been overlooked—the ability of the group to maintain its objectivity by staying detached from existing organizations so that they may freely express independent opinions. This is the only real sustaining power of an organization of this type and without objectivity it will soon fail.

It is impossible at this time to see how the novelty of OSA can hold the interest of the Student body through this semester. OSA, like all organizations of its type, is doomed either to oblivion or to be smothered among the many other campus organizations.

It is a sad commentary on the University that this type of organization is the only one which has stirred up any real interest in student government. If the students had shown as much interest in the student government as in OSA, this new organization would have died a quick death.

The present student body is so disinterested in maintaining strong student government that it even allows its own president to become an active member and organizer of OSA, an organization whose policies are inconsistent with those of the body which he heads. If things of this nature are allowed to continue, the student body will get just what it deserves—lack of support from the University and deterioration of faculty-student relationships.

The question on campus this spring is not who wears short shorts, but who will wear the pants—the student government or OSA.

Dr. Bolwell Reaches 38th Year As Lit. Prof. at the University

by Patricia Brett

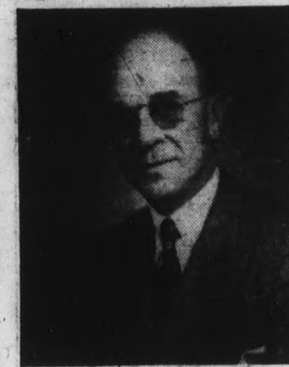

• THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS AT G. W. U. would seem to be a long time, especially to forlorn freshmen who think their senior year will never arrive, but this is precisely the time that Professor Robert W. Bolwell has been teaching here.

Dr. Bolwell, Professor Emeritus of American literature, admits that his first interest was in the study of the English Renaissance, which he calls "the richest period in English literature."

After receiving his doctorate at Columbia University, he began teaching at George Washington University. At that time American literature was not considered important and only one course was offered in that field. When President Marvin took office seven years later he proposed a policy whereby the University could expand and take advantage of the resources in Washington.

In a memorandum to President Marvin, Professor Bolwell suggested hiring a young professor who could develop American literature as a significant field of study and make use of the unlimited resources of the Library of Congress. President Marvin thought it was such a good idea that he created a new chair and offered it to Professor Bolwell. Due to this, the University was one of the pioneers in a movement which later swept the country.

Dr. Bolwell recalls "the enthusiasm at discovering something new is an experience I'll never forget."

DR. ROBERT BOLWELL
... Professor Emeritus

Prefers the Country

Though born in the bustling city of New York, Dr. Bolwell prefers the country. He calls his home an "oasis in the middle of civilization." He spends his hours of relaxation playing golf or playing his pipe organ. "I'm not a master," he admits, "but I enjoy good music and find the organ a great challenge." He enjoys forming small concert groups at his home with friends who share his musical interests. Dr. Bolwell is also fond of dogs and has owned eleven of them. His rural home, which he built himself, is his pride and joy. When it comes to architecture, he feels "a home should fit the people who live in it and not the reverse."

Travelling has also taken up a great deal of Professor Bolwell's spare time. He lived in Germany as an undergraduate, spent six months in England after graduation, and has visited every state in America at least three times. In 1952 he had the honor of being guest professor at the University of Goettingen in Germany.

At the University Dr. Bolwell has acted as advisor to foreign students, chairman of the graduate council and director of the Summer Sessions. He is a member of the American Association of University Professors, Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Nu. His publications include At Large in Germany, After College—What? and contributions to various literary magazines.

Foreign Students Entertain Friday

by Gregg Mayer

• IN THE MIDST of the University campus, one finds people of many lands. On Friday night, some of these people will be performing in scenes from their countries. The occasion is International Night, the admission is free and the entertainment is varied.

With the Parade of Nations beginning the program, girls from several lands will promenade in their native costumes. In the line of folk music, Gregory Grisha Titoff, balalaika player, and Jeanne and David Bird, dancers, will perform a medley of famous old Russian songs and dances. The balalaika has been in use for nearly six hundred years and adds a definite flavor to the Russian medley. Representing Indonesia, Eduardo Sinaga will play an original piano composition, and the Indonesian Student Association will perform a Candle Dance.

"Ox Dances"

The St. Andrews Society known to International Night audiences from other years, will dance a group of Scottish country dances. From another Northern country, the Swedish "Ox Dances" will be portrayed by Jerry Osborne and Dick Bushey, members of the Dance Production Groups and International Students Society.

A Siamese classical dance, "The Dance of the Basic Postures," will be executed by Yibbhan Xodmsai Samnad Sukhum, girls from Thailand, with the music and costumes that accompany the number. Other dances will represent Persia, Latvia, Estonia and Spain.

Israel

From the Middle East, Israel will be represented by a group of four, doing the Hora, a circular dance of the people. Deanna Bau, born in China and graduate of the University, will play a selection of classical piano music.

Returning the spotlight to the English-speaking countries, Gregg Mayer and Arthur Bauman, of the Dance group, will dance to the English folk song, "Greensleeves." One step further toward the United States, dances from the American Indians will be performed by the Jennings sisters.

Third Annual Affair

Sponsoring this evening is the International Students Society, of which Paul Spargnapani is president and Professor Alan T. Deibert is advisor. This is the third annual International Night, and its purpose is much the same as that of the foreign students' organization, to promote international cooperation, friendship among the nations and mutual understanding based on experience.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"PHOTOGRAPHY MAGAZINES? SOME STUDENT IN HERE HAS THEM ALL CHECKED OUT."

by Hester Heale

• IT'S SPRING—AND with spring comes spring fever and with spring fever comes term paper time. So one more big dance next weekend and then it's to work for the lot of you.

The Tekes went wild last Friday night after the Inter-fraternity Sing. Tekes alumni, other fraternity men, and kibitzers poured into the house to congratulate the victors and help them tap a keg. Tekes pledges Mike Jackling and Antonio Suecum organized a wicked game of chug-a-lug to put the trophy cup to good use. Nancy Mitchell, Barbara Reedy, Dotty Lund, Monica, Lago, Hanna Jefferson, Inez Tonelli, Helen Niles, Janet Glenn and Pledge Queen Elaine Engle were present to help the Tekes celebrate their victory. The party-making continued well into the small hours of the morning.

The Phi Sig's had a big "My Lord—we got second again" party at their house after the Sing last Friday night. Since singing was the activity of the day, it seemed only proper that song should be the theme of the party. Among the bellowers was the hero of the day, Haine Swope, director of the group, who was joined by KD Sue Ford, and soloist Bill Dotson, with Gladys Frank of ADPI. Saturday night naturally found all the brothers at the IFC Prom. Among the fun-lovers at the Phi Sig table were some particularly pretty faces: Kirk Palmer, Tri-Delt affiliated with Kappa, with brother Chuck Forbes, Bobby Pompilio with John Lintner, KD Joyce Jandley with Charlie King, and ADPI Yvonne Diaz with Dick Ross. P.S. Congratulations go to brother Jim Newheiser on his recent-announced marriage to ZTA's Ruth Reagan.

Friday night, still another party was in swing. Spirits were spirited with the proper spirits, as the Open House party began. Among the many: Tekes Jerry Roemer and Arlene Sanders, ZTA, Roy McNair and Bay Carter, KKG, Sing director Dick Willis and Judy Jaudon, KKG, Al Kopf and Rosemary Caputo and many, many others. Saturday night the brothers started the evening off with a roaring cocktail party at the house before the dance. Following the party the guests assembled in a caravan to the dance. Present were: Dale Hudelson and Kappa, Terry Bishop, John Harrison and Pi Phi Sharon Konningen, Steve Sznuriga and Sigma Kappa Pris Brown, Roy McNair and Pat Gilliam, Kappa.

A fast and furious party took place after the Sing in the SAE house. Many games of Indian Sign and Categories took place. Saturday found the brothers attending the IFC Prom. Seen enjoying the festivities were: Tom McHan and Jan Martinez, Dick Miller and DG Betty Robinson, Dan Taylor and pinmate Sally Russell, Chi O, Franny Gleason and DG Rosina Orr, Bill Tinley with Jackie Jones, ZTA, Dave Trask with pinmate Buff Bennett, Kate Storey with Chuck Stanley, and Billy "come lately" Frank with DG Cissie Anderson.

Enjoying a party at Joan Nichol's apartment Saturday were: John Lilly, Joan Talbert, Bill Player, Al Rode and Meredith Eagon. Wade Bolt and Joan Talbert let loose with interpretive dancing, while Gregg Mayer came prepared for a Hungarian dance with a guitar. Others in the gay group were: Don Wasserman, Marilyn Hogenson and Wendy Burk. The main topic of conversation for the evening was the film, "Brothers Karamazov."

The Sig Eps, amid the popping, slopping, and snapping of champagne, turned out in force to support the IFC Prom. The room took on a pink mist atmosphere as the corks flew. Jack Dano was his usual charming self, much to the delight of all attending. Seen enjoying one of the biggest blasts of the year were: Betsy Evans, Pi Phi, and Jim Battles, Chris Lofgren, KD, and Gene Slatick, Hans Zassenhaus, Jim Bausch and Val Zabijaka.

The Chi Omega's had a box luncheon for the SAE's Friday the 14th. Among those SAE's sharing their lunches with the Chi O's were Bob Price, Tom McHan, Bob Bono, Dan Taylor, Bill Tinley, and John Hall. The party, as with all good parties, ended up with a bridge game.

The Wandering Greek Society was hosted to a very nice Patrick's Day Exchange by the Sigma Chi brothers on Sunday, March 16.

Delta Zeta proudly announces that Norma Engberg has been selected as their "Girl of the Month."

Phi Alpha announces the pinning of Alan Mason to Tonia Messitte, Robert Barkin to Brenda Sandler, and the engagement of Irwin Ruben to Deuteron Kitty Gruen.

Combo Chairman Warren Barley Comes From a GW-Oriented Family

by G. Devotie

• ONE OF THE outstanding members of this year's senior class is Warren Barley, a student whose list of honors and activities is long and impressive. Warren is co-chairman of the Campus Combo, business manager of the school yearbook, The Cherry Tree, and past co-chairman with Sue Thayer of Emanon, the new social organization here on campus.

Past activities include serving business manager of the Student Handbook, member of the executive board of Old Men and the Order of Scarlet, and facilities chairman of both the Career Conference and the Homecoming committees, as well as being a loyal member of the Buck Rogers Satellite Pioneers.

In his freshman year Warren received the award for being the outstanding intramural wrestler.

Who's Who

Warren is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and for his many outstanding contributions to his fraternity he was elected to membership in the Gate and Key Society last spring. This year at Homecoming he was tapped by Omicron Delta Kappa, the national men's leadership honorary, and later was selected to appear in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. In addition, he is a B+ student who holds an Emma K. Carr Scholarship.

Time For Activities?

When asked how he finds time for all of these activities, Warren mumbled with that well-known grin of his especially prominent, "It's simply a question of organization."

Perhaps he means that a person has to budget his time efficiently, but there is some sentiment for the idea that he had in mind the art known as "delegation of authority," at which he is such an expert.

Warren is especially pleased with the record-breaking number of Campus Combos that were sold this year. Certainly this mass demonstration of how sales resistance can be fought is a tribute to his organizational ability.

Adventure in 'Blue Beetle'

There is however, one cloud in Warren's otherwise bright life. That cloud is, of course, his car, the only 1949 robbins' egg blue Chevrolet in existence. Warren

WARREN BARLEY
... Long Activity List

painted the car himself, and, rumor has it, it glows in the dark. One incident in particular about his car stands out in Warren's mind. Last spring Warren and his partner-in-crime, the ever-popular Ed Crump, decided to take a trip through New England. Warren's car, as usual, had problems, blowing out its muffler on the New Jersey Turnpike, and then falling victim to some mysterious ailment on the Merritt Parkway that rendered it powerless to go over thirty miles per hour.

Due to a lack of funds, the trip was brought to a close, and the only food that they had to eat on the last day of their trip consisted of candy bars charged at Amoco gas stations along the way. They arrived in Washington after completing a fourteen hundred mile trip with twenty-seven cents left between them. Then, one block after they had crossed the District line, Warren was stopped for speeding, the "Blue Beetle" having recovered from its sickness at a most inappropriate time.

Warren's deciding to come to George Washington is more than a mere coincidence. His father, mother, and older brother, Marty, also an SAE, are all graduates of this University.

"Jockey brand underwear made me a brighter star!"

"'You can't play Cyrano if you wear baggy underwear!' the drama coach told me. That was the day I bought my first pair of Jockey briefs. Quel fit! Quel comfort! I looked better and, amazingly, even my superb acting improved. Jockey briefs had made a dramatic change in my career!

"Now I get all the starring roles, thanks to comfortable Jockey brand underwear. And I wouldn't think of accepting a substitute. You see, only genuine Jockey brand briefs are tailored from 13 separate, individually shaped pieces. That is the reason they give you such a smooth, comfortable fit!"

Jockey briefs are the most copied underwear in the world. Be sure you get genuine Jockey brand—they're tailored to fit.

S.X. Defeated In Volleyball ZTA Wins ISAB Bowling; Pi Phi Leads Mural Race

● SIGMA CHI WAS upset in volleyball last Sunday by the Med School (A) team and its chances for first place standing in intramurals grew dimmer.

The Sigs, favored to take volleyball, were way off their game and didn't even give the Med School a fight until Dick Claypool arrived with the score 17-8. The final score was 21-16.

Claypool sparked a Sig comeback which just fell short of overtaking a big Med School lead. The Sigs kept setting the ball up to Claypool at the net and Claypool was terrific at spiking the ball.

Badminton, track, and baseball are the remaining sports that Sigma Chi can accumulate points in. The Sigs are favored to take badminton and, unofficially, are ahead in badminton, although the sport has not yet ended.

Alpha Epsilon Pi, Phi Alpha and Delta Theta Phi are among the leaders in the intramural standings that have gained the volleyball play-offs this week-end.

W.A.A. Hosts Sports Day

● THE WOMEN'S ATHLETIC Association was host to a sports day consisting of Hood College, Maryland University and George Washington University last week.

The theme of the day was the "Roaring Twenties" and all the girls were split up into three teams, each team having a number of girls from each institution. The teams were: Bee's Knees, Cat's Meow and 23 Skidoo. The latter team won the most points in all three sports combined.

The sports day began with a luncheon in the Union. Entertainment was furnished and the hostesses were dressed in twenties costumes.

The three teams participated in badminton, bowling and basketball. The 23 Skidoo team won bowling and basketball and placed second in badminton to compile their winning points.

Basketball was played in the G. W. gymnasium, badminton in the Y.W.C.A., and bowling at the Lafayette Alleys.

Riflers Win Two Matches

● THE WOMEN'S RIFLE team won two postal matches this week bringing its season total to six wins and one loss. Its only loss was a prone match with Boston University, last year's winner of the national prone championship.

George Washington defeated the University of Denver, last year's national three-position champions, in a three-position match, 1337-1334. The other victory was a prone match against the University of Toledo with G. W. winning 496-487.

High scorer for the Denver match was Nadya Kayaloff, a second year shooter, who seems to have a promising future with the team. Her 279 score outranked Denver's high scorer of 279.

Other scores for George Washington were Sydney Winkel, 277; Helen Skopic, 274; Elizabeth Clark, 255, and Lynn Granger, 252.

Helen Skopic was high scorer in the Toledo match with 100, bringing her season average to 99.8 in 17 matches. Following her were Lynn Granger, Nadya Kayaloff, Sydney Winkel, and Elizabeth Clark all with scores of 99.

● FOR THE SECOND straight year Margaret Cannon won the individual bowling trophy with games of 106, 97, and 96 for a high of 299, and led Zeta Tau Alpha to the Inter-Sorority Athletic Board Bowling Championship in the tournament held Thursday night, March 20 at the Lafayette Bowling Center. Top game, bowled by ZTA Nancy Tully, was 111. Other members of the winning team were Carolyn Hall and Karen Schlageter.

Alpha Delta Pi was second with a total of 941, and Kappa Alpha Theta placed third with 877.

Pi Beta Phi still leads the sororities in total team points as a result of victories in the tennis, volleyball and badminton tournaments held earlier in the year. Should Pi Phi win this year they would retain possession of the large loving cup by virtue of having won it three straight years.

Other sorority standings are: second place Wandering Greeks and third place Chi Omega.

Colonial Spring Sports Season Begins

Sailing And Rowing Squads Work Out

by Aaron Knott

• THE COLONIAL SAILING team opens its season April 12 in the tenth Annual M.A.I.S.A. spring invitational at Navy. Fourteen teams will compete, including Army, Navy, RPI, and Princeton.

The G. W. team is rated as one of the best on the east coast. At its last outing, in the Frostbite Regatta in December, the sailing team placed second ahead of Navy and Princeton, and Buff Rick Davis was picked high-point skipper.

This season Rick will be captain of the Division A boat, while his brother, Pete Davis, will captain the Division B boat. The crews will be Betty Barry, Gigi Winslett, and Betty O'Hara.

The sailing team is coached by two former G. Wites, George Collins and Johnny Dodge. Collins was a captain for three years and was on the team that won the East Coast Championships in 1953.

Sailing Club

The sailing team is usually drawn from members of the sailing club which practices every Sunday off Buzzard's point. A new club member is first put on a crew where he learns how to sail. After a crewman becomes experienced in sailing, he is checked out by a skipper, and can take a boat out by himself. When a skipper becomes more practiced he is able to check out crews.

The Sailing Team Schedule:

April 12-13 — Tenth annual M.A.I.S.A. Spring Invitational at Navy.
April 19—Triangular (Georgetown, Catholic U., GWU) at GWU.
April 20—Monotype eliminations (CU, GWU, Lehigh) at GWU.
April 26-27 — Middle Atlantic

Championship Eliminations at Navy.

May 3—Quadrangular (Catholic U., GWU, Georgetown, Stevens) at GWU.

May 10-11 — Middle Atlantic Championship at Navy.

Rowing Club

The newly organized rowing club has begun spring practice. The rowing team practices at the Potomac Boat Club on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 5 p.m., on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 7 a.m., and on Saturdays at 12 noon.

Last year in its first collegiate match the team beat the Penn. University freshman club. The club was coached by Ron McKay who had been coxswain for MIT.

Coach Maletz

The club lost four of last year's oarsmen, but is strengthened by the addition of coxswain Mike Bellot, a transfer student, from Marietta in Ohio. This year the team is coached by Fred Maletz. Captain Bob Moore said, that practice so far has been hampered by ice in the river, but that with warm weather the crew should be able to get out every day.

Jerry Power

• THE BUFF NINE will be without the services of Jerry Power when it opens against Colby tomorrow. Power suffered a leg injury in spring football practice.

Baseball Nine Plays Colby

• GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY'S baseball team will open its season against Colby College from Maine with little or no practice at all, tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. on the west Ellipse.

Inclement weather has forced the Colonial nine to practice in the gymnasium with only the pitching and catching staffs seeing any action. The rest of the squad just warmed up.

The Buff will be seeking their third consecutive baseball title. The Colonials have lost all Southern Conference first basemen Ray Looney. Looney signed a bonus contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates and is now playing for one of their farm clubs.

Returning veteran shortstop Sam Knisely will be one of the outstanding returnees to the diamond for the Buff. Knisely batted .329 and knocked in 20 runs last year to spark the Colonials' winning season. Gino D'Ambrosia, hard hitting outfielder, will be looked upon for his heavy bat and will occupy the left field spot.

Tennis, Golf Teams Favored In S. Conf.

by Bob Lipman

• THE TENNIS AND Golf teams, pre-season Southern Conference favorites, start their respective years off with away matches this week. The tennis team plays Virginia U. this Thursday, while the golf team plays at Richmond tomorrow.

The Tarr brothers, Jim and Jack, and Saul Leibowitz are the key men on Coach Bill Shreve's squad. The Buff courtmen will be seeking their third consecutive Southern Conference title.

The Cherry Blossom Tournament, held at the Kenwood Country Club, will highlight this year's schedule. The tournament will be played on April 9, 10 and 11 and will feature Michigan, Notre Dame, Georgetown and the Colonials.

This year's schedule consists of many of the top Eastern teams. Virginia, Brown, Duke, Maryland and North Carolina are a few of the many good squads that the Colonials will engage.

Other returning veterans are John Bouquet and John Kaarid. New candidates are Jim Whitehead, Irv Shorr, Walt Garfield, Jim Roper and Richard Fishman.

March 26, at Richmond University. This is the first of a 12-match schedule highlighted by the Greenbrier Invitational, April 5-6, and the Southern Conference Tournament, May 6-7.

The Colonial swingers are looking for improvement with return of five lettermen. Junior Jay Randolph from Washington, D. C., will be back at the No. 1 spot. Randolph won the District Amateur Championship last year and sparked the Colonials to the Southern Conference crown with his medalist play in the tourney.

Warren Krick, Joe Haney, and Vic Bartlett are waging a lively battle for the rest of the starting berths. Newcomers Eddie Bower and Marvin Singman are showing great potential. Singman won the Indian Spring Country Club's Junior Championship in 1956. This pair will be called on to fill the vacancies left when Larry Spellman and Irv Salem graduated.
